Texas Woman's University occupies a notable position in higher education as the nation's largest university primarily for women. Its three campuses in Denton, Dallas and Houston are joined by a fourth "e-Learning" campus that offers innovative online degree programs in business, education, and general studies. Semester enrollment continues to grow with an excess of 14,000 students currently enrolled. TWU is connecting excellence to the real world by:

- Addressing the health care needs of Texans through the Institutes of Health Sciences – Houston Center in 2006 and Dallas Center in 2011,
- Producing more new nurses and health care professionals than any other university in Texas,
- Offering a liberal arts-based curriculum that prepares students for success in an increasingly global world and
- Conducting research that impacts the health needs of society.

Texas Woman's University, an AA/EEO employer, supports diversity. Men and women, and members of all racial and ethnic groups, are encouraged to apply. All offers of employment will be contingent on the candidate's ability to provide documents which establish proof of identity and eligibility to work in the United States. All positions at Texas Woman's University are deemed security sensitive requiring background checks.
