

Announcement of Position Availability

Texas Christian University Department of Kinesiology

Position: Tenure track, assistant or associate professor appointment beginning August 2019.

Requirements: Minimum requirement is an earned doctorate in Kinesiology (or closely related field) with a concentration in exercise/sport psychology. Preference will be given to candidates with a specialization in exercise-related psychology, experience in baccalaureate and higher education, and an established program of research and a record of scholarly work. Applicants must demonstrate a commitment to foster a diverse, equitable, and inclusive classroom/office environment.

Professional Duties:

Teach primarily graduate and undergraduate courses in exercise/sport psychology, and other undergraduate major courses. Maintain an active research agenda, seek internal and external funding, supervise/advise undergraduate and graduate majors, and provide service to the university.

Salary: Commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Application
Deadline: Screening of applicants will begin Nov. 1, 2018, and will continue until the position is filled.

Application Candidates should provide the following documents: 1) letter of interest; 2) curriculum vita; 3) statement of teaching philosophy; 4) statement of your existing or proposed program of research; and 5) names and contact information for three professional references to: https://tcu.igreentree.com/CSS_Faculty/CSSPage_Welcome.asp. Select "Harris College of Nursing & Health Sciences" to find the position announcement.

Contacts: All questions regarding the application process and position should be directed to Human Resources at hrtalentacquisition@tcu.edu. Applications not submitted online will not be considered.

The Department of Kinesiology offers a variety of undergraduate majors/degrees, a M.S. degree in Kinesiology, and a PhD in Health Sciences (harrisresearch.tcu.edu). Distinctive characteristics of the department can be explored at <http://www.kinesiology.tcu.edu>. TCU is a leading, private teaching and research institution located about 3 miles from downtown Fort Worth and 25 miles from Dallas/Fort Worth International Airport. By virtue of TCU's location and resources, opportunities for growth and success as an academic leader are vast. The Chronicle of Higher Education recently selected Texas Christian University as one of the top universities honored as a "Great Colleges to Work For" institution for the 7th consecutive year. TCU has established a new medical school in collaboration with the University of North Texas Health Sciences Center. TCU has a unique focus on global learning, an emphasis on multicultural training and participation in interprofessional education. In addition, the benefits package offered by TCU is one of the best in the country, including substantial tuition benefits for employees and family members. Salary is commensurate with qualifications and experience.

As an AA/EEO employer, TCU recruits, hires, and promotes qualified persons in all job classifications without regard to age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender, gender identity, gender expression, national origin, ethnic origin, disability, genetic information, covered veteran status, or any other basis protected by law.